सर्वग्राह्य साम्बिधानिक शासन औ तार्किक दर्शन परिषड

To: Honorable Prime Minister Narendra Modi

Cc: Honorable President, Supreme Court, President of RSS and Concerned citizens.

Sub: Triumph of Dharma in 2019 Election: First in the History of Independent India

Dear Honorable PM Narendra Modiji,

Kudos for shaping the 2019 election as a war between Dharma and Adharma and for the triumph of Dharma!

Dharma – scripted 5000 years ago when no organized religion existed – is to not usurp others' life, dignity or wealth, even surreptitiously, for example, through (i) ancient Pashaphela, (ii) terrorism (physical or intellectual) or (iii) modern legalized system (rules) of governance that allows robbery with impunity of enterprising wealth creators, producers and vast majority of ordinary individuals.

Adharma has, unfortunately, engulfed the world and is now threatening the survival of humanity. Adharma eviscerates the vitals of enterprise, creativity and production. Adharma ultimately threatens the very survival of even the indolent robbers and those who indolently depend on doles and subsidies.

Contemporary research on general equilibrium of economy shows that Dharma is constitutional, unanimously agreeable and necessary for efficient survival and civilized coexistence of humanity.<sup>1</sup> Adharma is unconstitutional, unanimously disagreeable and detrimental to efficient survival and civilized coexistence of humanity

Victory of Dharma in the 2019 Indian election can potentially lead the global humanity towards civilized coexistence and survival because Dharma (not Adharma) demotes indolent dependence and promotes enterprise, creativity and production.

There is no guarantee, though, that Dharma will automatically prevail despite its decisive triumph in 2019. Surreptitiously Adharmic leaders such as Mr. Naveen Patnaik of Odisha, for example, can keep poor voters addicted to indolent dependence while such dependence in a vicious circle drives more and more people to poverty to remain cravingly dependent on doles and subsidies. In such cases, Modi Administration II ought to escalate CBI investigation and court resolution of scams involving chit-fund, percentages collected from public investment funds and mineral wealth loot under Naveen Patnaik administration. Because your administration soft-pedalled on such heinous scams (perhaps due to assurance from Mr. Patnaik that he would help NDA if 2019 election verdict did not give a majority to BJP), Mr. Patnaik could survive the onslaught of Modi

Tsunami, though BJP in Odisha significantly gained an impressive 15% extra vote (that too from more powerful and conscious Odiyas) in 2019. The law should have taken its course on time and it should be expeditiously followed now.

The most serious challenge for resurrection of Dharma is not a Naveen Patnaik here or a YSR there. It is irrational indoctrination everywhere of many Indians with surreptitiously Adharmic, Unconstitutional and Unanimously Disagreeable and Undemocratic policies--such as secularism and socialism--of Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and Mrs. Indira Gandhi:

1. Mahatma Gandhi ruined unity in independent India by agreeing with the British to divide India based on communalism, which resulted in killing of crores of Indians. He decimated democracy by anointing Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru as Prime Minister with minority support within Indian National Congress. Mahatma Gandhi dictatorially bypassed Sardar Patel who had an absolute majority support within Indian National Congress.
2. Whether Mahatma Gandhi was allied with or blackmailed by the British Raj is moot.<sup>2</sup> He should be rationally judged only by his actions. His agreement to divide India based on communalism that led to mass riots and anointment of someone as prime minister without majority support of Indian National Congress that caused deep resentment (leading perhaps to his assassination) is Adharmic, undemocratic, unanimously disagreeable and unconstitutional for India. Rationally, indoctrinating Indians to worship Mahatma Gandhi as the father of the nation is irrational and Adharmic.
3. Mahatma Gandhi pronounced himself a Hindu, a Muslim and a Christian. He used to chant a song “Raghupati Raghav Raja Ram Ishwar Alla Tere Nam.” Such pronouncements show that he genuinely wished for unity among people following different religions. His actions--such as agreement for division of a nation based on religion and disregard for democracy in choice of leaders--tell rationally, however, that Mahatma Gandhi did not know how to unify people. The legacy of Mahatma Gandhi is Gandhibad in independent India which amounts to mass agitations leading to destruction of public and private properties to demand (not to supply) free goods and services.
4. Pandit Nehru became the first undemocratic leader of India due to his demand for the prime minister post without majority support of Indian National Congress.
5. Mrs. Indira Gandhi voided the constitution during emergency and jailed her opponents. She amended the constitution to make India “secular and socialist,” which decimated enterprise, resulted in Hindu rate of growth, destroyed the value of rupee and caused economic emergency and surrender in 1992.

6. Mahatma Gandhi has been depicted as a follower of the TRUTH. What is TRUTH? Gandhi has said that TRUTH is GOD. No one including Mahatma Gandhi has, however, defined God rationally and unanimously agreeably, until I wrote a paper “Universal Religion and God: A Unifying Philosophy of Governance,” published in the Journal of Governance and Regulation (2011).<sup>3</sup> Disagreement with this paper has not surfaced yet, to the best of my knowledge.
- Standard dictionary definition of TRUTH (about something) is conformation or accordance (of that something) with fact or reality. Dictionaries omit, but it is obvious, that only the human mind can render such conformation or accordance. Truth about “something” then is agreeability of a human mind about that “something” being factual or real. But human minds often disagree, especially, if that “something” is ethos of governance.
  - An unambiguously rational definition of TRUTH should, therefore, be unanimous agreeability among all human minds about something like ethos of governance. Such unanimously agreeable TRUTH that resides in every human mind, soul or Atma or DNA can, thus, be construed as Paramatma or unanimously agreeable God.
  - Mahatma Gandhi and Gandhibadis have truly (unanimously agreeably) failed to discover, let alone follow, any unanimously agreeable TRUTH about ethos of governance. Gandhibadis must not, therefore, impose on a nation their own dogmatic ethos of governance by spreading Mithya that Mahatma Gandhi was a follower of TRUTH on ethos of governance. Gandhi factually failed to discover any TRUTH about rational, constitutional and unanimously agreeable ethos of governance, let alone spreading such truth to achieve unity among people.

Do we now have a unique rational and unanimously agreeable ethos of governance, which is also constitutional and necessary for efficient survival and coexistence of mankind so that people have no confusion about choice?

- A. Yes, it is the ethos of Modern Gita: Unanimously Agreeable and Constitutional rules of Governance (UACG).<sup>4</sup> UACG is authored by someone<sup>5</sup> who has not only discovered and disseminated this TRUTH about ethos of governance through refutable (but so far unrefuted) peerless rational-scientific contemporary research, but also personally remained steadfast on the path of TRUTH and Dharma since childhood.

- B. UACG is consistent with the philosophy of ancient Gita scripted 5000 years ago. UACG is also consistent with the preamble of modern constitution founded in 1776 by American founding fathers and adopted by democracies worldwide.
- C. UACG prescribes only those rules of governance which directly or indirectly (like surreptitious financial market shenanigans) do not usurp private wealth, dignity or life and imposes constitutionally mandated punishment for the transgressors of UACG.
- D. UACG is, thus, the only unique nonviolent Dharmic path (unanimously agreeable truth) available for efficient survival and coexistence of mankind.
- E. The sole author of UACG has been spreading UACG nonviolently. He has done so despite serious attempts by powerful vested interests to paint him as a Hindu terrorist to incarcerate or encounter him through government military-police-CBI raids<sup>6</sup> of his globally unique Academy of Rational Philosophy.<sup>7</sup> He has been strictly living within the ambit of even the established unconstitutional and unanimously disagreeable rules of law and without ever engaging in mass agitation or destruction of public or private properties.
- F. Before UACG was known/discovered, humanity resorted to violent wars (such as the Mahabharat War, rise of Hitler or Nathuram Godse killing Mahatma Gandhi) to mete punishment to recalcitrant transgressors of unanimously agreeable ethos (Dharma) of governance. Selflessly discovered and disseminated UACG obviates such violence.
- G. Scientific-rational juggernaut of UACG has triumphed without violence or agitation or destruction of public property. The most important public good being restored by UACG is civilized coexistence and survival of humanity.<sup>8</sup>
